RE: Nortel Networks West Ditch Project

We have had the pleasure of working with Birmingham on several projects over the years under subcontract to Bre-Ex and as fellow subcontractors. In both capacities Birmingham has exceeded our expectations. The Birmingham team not only brings with them the tools for the job and a long history of "jobs well done" but also a willingness to work together as true project partners from the estimating stage all the way through the contract execution stage. Your team has demonstrated the ability to take on project challenges in a professional manner ensuring that the lines of communication are always maintained and "optimum" solutions are selected for all parties involved.

We look forward to the next opportunity to work with your company.

Sincerely,
